LEADERS IN LITIGATION THROUGHOUT THE COUNTRY

RodaNast, P.C. litigates cases before courts and arbitrators throughout the United States. It works with and against the largest companies and law firms in the country. Its cases are diverse, and involve individual and class action litigation in antitrust, mass torts, product defects, consumer protection, contracts, insurance, serious personal injury and other matters involving significant damages or losses. Clients include individuals, businesses and governmental entities.

Two of the firm's lawyers, Joseph Roda and Dianne Nast, are named again in this year's Super Lawyers® magazine. Roda is named to the Top 100 Lawyers list, and Nast is named to the Top 50 Women list. Roda and Nast are also each listed in The Best Lawyers in America. A third attorney in the firm, Daniel Gallucci, was named to the Rising Stars list in 2006.

Nast was a partner in the Philadelphia firm Kohn, Nast & Graf, P.C. before joining Roda in 1995. The National Law Journal named her one of the Top 50 women litigators in the country. She has led many national antitrust and consumer class actions, as well as numerous mass tort cases in the last decade.

Roda is a member of The American College of Trial Lawyers and the International Academy of Trial Lawyers. He has had significant verdicts at local, state and national levels, including one in federal court in Philadelphia last year for $24 million, which ranked among the highest in Pennsylvania and the country in 2006.

Gallucci won the third-highest verdict in Lancaster County history in 2006 and 27th highest in the state that year. He and two other RodaNast attorneys, JoAnne Matusko and Shannon Young, also won the Lancaster Bar Association Foundation's Michael G. Nast award in 2006 for their pro bono work. The foundation named the award in honor of Michael Nast, a RodaNast attorney who was named one of 40 top lawyers under 40 in Pennsylvania in 2003, one year before his untimely death.

In addition to Gallucci, Matusko and Young, the firm is also fortunate to have the talents of attorneys Eric Keepers, Michele Burkholder, Jennifer Snyder, Steven O'Donnell, Erin Burns and Jeffrey Eaby, as well as a very capable paralegal and support staff, each of whom helps make the firm what it is.
